the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has become a major employer in the UK, and its growth has been a major factor in the overall growth of the economy.

The public sector has also become a major employer of women. In 1980, women made up 40% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 50%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of women in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people with disabilities. In 1980, people with disabilities made up 1% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 3%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people with disabilities in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from ethnic minorities. In 1980, people from ethnic minorities made up 2% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 5%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from ethnic minorities in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from the lower social classes. In 1980, people from the lower social classes made up 10% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 20%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from the lower social classes in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from the lower income groups. In 1980, people from the lower income groups made up 10% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 20%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from the lower income groups in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from the lower education levels. In 1980, people from the lower education levels made up 10% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 20%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from the lower education levels in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from the lower health status. In 1980, people from the lower health status made up 10% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 20%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from the lower health status in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

The public sector has also become a major employer of people from the lower life expectancy. In 1980, people from the lower life expectancy made up 10% of the public sector workforce, and by 1995, this had increased to 20%. This increase has been driven by a number of factors, including the growth of the public sector, the increasing participation of people from the lower life expectancy in the workforce, and the increasing demand for public services.

DESIDERATA

GO PLACIDLY amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons; they are vexatious to the spirit. If you COMPARE YOURSELF with others you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession of the changing fortunes of time. EXERCISE CAUTION IN YOUR BUSINESS AFFAIRS; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is. Many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. BE YOURSELF. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline be gentle with yourself. YOU ARE A CHILD of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

One Small Step

The DESIDERATA is a famous composition written by Max Ehrmann which may be the single most popular poem in the world, and also the most disputed.

Written in 1927, in Terre Haute, Indiana, the poem has become popular in recent times. It outlines the commodities of a peaceful life as Ehrmann saw it, and throughout the poem he urges: "Be careful." "Strive to be happy." "Go placidly amid the noise and haste."

The DESIDERATA means things wanted or things needed. Its philosophy about living with dignity, and injecting meaning and purpose into a world of turmoil made it a natural subject for the theme of this book and the school year at Goshen High School.

Students, faculty, and administration have indeed been moving amidst the noise and haste, and at the same time striving to be happy. These feelings are expressed by our theme, "One Small Step." A year ago Dr. Cartwright came and made a first-day pledge to eliminate the hassle at GHS. This year we are looking back and evaluating the progress that was made, and we're also looking forward to new happenings.

Yes, some of the hassles have been reduced, and, in some cases, even eliminated, but new problems have arisen to take the place of the old ones. We have made "One Small Step" toward alleviating the many hassles at Goshen High School, but things aren't perfect yet by any means. The Crimson staff hopes that the administration and the student body, by cooperating and working together, can make even bigger strides in all areas. This pictorial account reflects the effort made by the students, faculty, and administration in taking that "One Small Step" to make Goshen High School a better place.

1) Dr. Cartwright's goal was to make Goshen High School a better place for both the students and the faculty. 2) Greg St. Germain worked hard bagging specimens on the advanced biology trip to Florida. 3) Bryan Waratier, Kevin Cotherman, Mike Weber, and other hungry onlookers kept a close watch on Mrs. Steve Miller's pizza during Mini-course Day.

New Learning Experiences

"One Small Step".....Those three words seemed to best describe the progress made at Goshen High School this year. Dr. Phil Cartwright, principal, came last year with high hopes of eliminating the hassle here, and the rest of the administration as well as the student body was swept up in his enthusiasm. We all expected miracles—a totally new program that would subscribe to the needs and wants of all concerned—and many advancements were made. Both faculty and students had various new opportunities to enrich and enliven their school days. The advanced biology class, under the direction of Mr. Carl Weaver, took an educational trip to Florida during spring vacation to study the marine life in and around the Atlantic waters. This new adventure proved to be a stimulating, successful, memorable experience for the 22 students and seven sponsors who made the trip.

Another major step toward fulfilling some of the dreams of the students was Mini-course Day. For years many members of the student body have secretly (and some not quite so secretly) yearned for a break from the usual school routine, and this year that break was achieved. A group of responsible, interested students headed by Doug Huber put much thought, planning, and elbow grease into producing a successful day of courses that gave students and faculty a chance to broaden their horizons—courses such as pizza-making, scuba diving, dog training, interior decorating, gymnastics, dancing, and even field trips to a funeral home and the hospital. Mini-course Day '75 was termed a success, and plans to make it an annual event showed definite steps toward a sincere effort to make GHS a place that cultivates student interest rather than quenches it.

1) This window became a familiar, well-traveled place for most of the students at GHS. 2) Lee Miller found that self-scheduling wasn't quite as easy as he'd thought, but Beth Mayberry, Kathy Miller, and Bonnie Miller tried to help. 3) Ken Matzler, Deb Kinney, Rory Norton, Robin Hummel, Pet Cripe, and Andy Jackson took advantage of the snack line's variety of treats.

Decision-making Opportunities

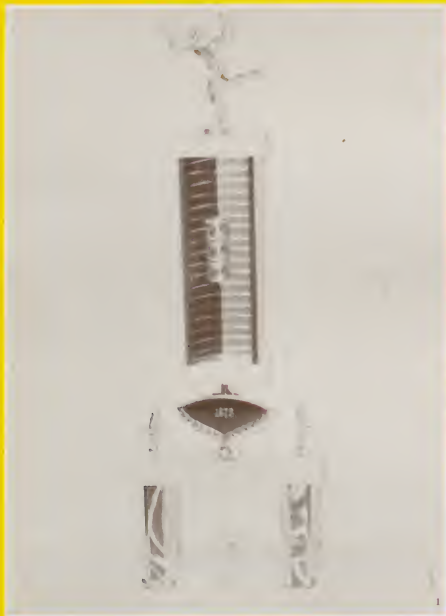

There have been improvements at Goshen High this year, but some of these steps forward have created backslides. It appears that by solving some of the old issues we have merely caused new ones. Sometimes the good intentions of a new program have been negated or outweighed by its disadvantages. The new attendance system originated as a more efficient plan to handle absences, tardies, and trancies, but it also caused friction between the administration and the students.

Another area of controversy was self-scheduling, originally designed to allow students to plan their own school year—courses, hours, and teachers. Many people felt that by actually planning their own schedules students would stop complaining about courses, teacher-student conflicts, etc. Unfortunately, this hope was never quite accomplished. The self-scheduling system worked fine for the first few groups who entered the gym because they could pretty much get what they wanted, but as classes closed and more people still came, anger and frustration were unleashed. Often, those at the end of the line were completely dissatisfied with what they ended up taking.

The snack line was re-incarnated this year to provide nourishment for the school, but it resulted in a rise in the cockroach population as well. One of the rules that governed the snack line was that no food was to be taken from the cafeteria. Like the old saying goes, rules were made to be broken, and this one was no exception. Throughout the year there were many disagreements between faculty and students, but crumbs were still found outside the cafeteria, and at night those hungry cockroaches had a feast.

1) For the first time ever, the Goshen Relays Class "B" trophy did not find a home. 2) The cheerleaders, boys' booster club, and girls' cheerblock led the school and the community to heightened enthusiasm at a basketball game. 3) Pat Myers, secretary of the Student Council, and Roger Burger, president, portrayed a typical meeting.

Involvement at its Highest

This year, as in the past, the student body at GHS wanted involvement, but only on occasions did the majority of the people put out any effort to get involved. The appointment of a Student Activities Coordinator was supposed to cultivate further organization and input into school affairs, but the disappearance of the position proves that little involvement was actually obtained. Closely related to this office was the Student Council. Continuing to elect volunteer representatives, we hoped for sincere interest in school problems, but the inactivity of the group forced us to revise our ideas. The Student Council sponsored a Walk Against Hunger, but the interest shown in the students as a whole was slim.

Perhaps the most important area of involvement was sports. School and team spirit seemed to be higher than last year, but both occasionally got out of hand when sports and victory came before any other activity, which was brought out quite strongly at the end of the year when a music-sports conflict article was printed in the TOMAHAWK.

Another segment of sports that became extremely important was the Goshen Relays. For the first time in history, the Goshen Relays Class "B" trophy was not presented because, in actuality, no team won due to a confusion in scoring and the rule that states that no results can be changed after half an hour after the Relays are over. This event brought about the sportsmanship of coaches and teams from both NorthWood and Goshen, but nonetheless it threw a little black cloud over one of the finest track meets in the state.

1) Crowded halls will hopefully be eliminated with the addition of the media center and the change to a four-year high school. 2) An aerial photograph of the Goshen High School campus. 3) The new media center will be built here, between the junior high and the high school.

An Explanation of Changes

Hovering in the background almost all winter was the controversy of converting GHS into a four-year high school, and remodeling Towncrest as a middle school. The present arrangement of two junior highs and a three-year high school was evidently unsatisfactory in the eyes of many, and plans were being devised to improve the system. After much study of other programs, the middle school and four-year high school plan appeared to be the best idea for the town of Goshen. Now the only question was when to bring this change about.

Pros and cons were weighed, investigated, and presented as students, parents, faculty, and administration aired their views. At times it seemed that the school, and even the entire town of Goshen talked of nothing else. Since a major change in the education system of Goshen would have either a direct or indirect effect on much of its population, nearly everyone was involved in one way or another. After long hours of deliberation, the committee decided to postpone the transition until the facilities at both Towncrest and the high school could be improved. The first renovation to appear on the drawing board was a new media center, proposed to be built between Whiteman and GHS, to be completed by the fall of 1976.

A comparatively small but tremendously important step was taken this year. The administration realized the need for a change in the school system, and definite plans were made to improve our schools. Thoughts were organized, opinions were sought, decisions were made, and finally blueprints were drawn up.

An Understanding of Government

GHS students indeed "wanted" to know and, for that matter, realized they "needed" to know and understand the governmental system if, in fact, they were to begin to take that "one small step" toward becoming an informed and knowledgeable citizen.

For the first time in many years, young people began to take notice that government affected their daily lives. All at once government and related courses became alive as the instructors had a chance to relate what the students were reading in their textbooks to real life situations.

Indeed, Watergate and everything associated with it will go down as a historical event, possibly it will reaffirm what our Founding Fathers intended: government for the people by the people, and not government for the people by the government.

A Day of Fun and Learning

Pizza Making, Judo and Karate, Tennis, Hunting and Trapping, Dog Training, and Sailing may not sound like an ordinary school day, but Mini-Course Project '75 offered 63 exciting and unique classes to the students of GHS.

Field trips added a special dimension and broadened the interest range of MCP '75. Bowling, Funeral Home, Producing and Recording TV Programs, and Goshen General Hospital provided topics which were converted into tours.

The idea behind MCP '75 was to give students the opportunity to learn about things beyond the realm of regular school curriculum, for instance students learned sign language, to resist a rapist, to fill out a W-2 income tax form, train a dog, scuba dive, ice a cake, and even hypnotism; this includes only a few of the dozens of experiences that were part of MCP '75.

"Teachers" were selected from the community by the MCP '75 Committee composed of student council representatives, spearheaded by Doug Huber. In all cases the "teachers" were highly qualified instructors in their specialized fields.

Mini-Course Day's debut was an extremely successful one. Attributed to its prosperity were the many hours of preparation and organization. It is hoped that Mini-Course Day's first appearance will lead the way to tradition at Goshen High.

Pat Myers and Bob Lau Voted King and Queen

Palm trees, fish nets, hula girls, and a sail boat were all a part of the theme for the 350 GHS students and their guests who attended the 1975 Goshen Prom.

The "Land of Paradise," a south seas setting, was created to set the mood for an evening of dancing and socializing on Saturday, May 10.

The junior class, who sponsored the prom, spent $1,720 for the setting. Music for the dance, from 9 to 12 p.m., was provided by Simon Genesis.

The movie M A S H was shown at the Goshen Theatre following the dance at 1 a.m. Free breakfasts were served from 3 to 5 a.m. at the First English Lutheran Church.

Many couples continued with after-prom activities the next day. Going to the dunes to visiting animals at the zoo, or just relaxing at home were part of the ending of the 1975 Goshen High School Junior-Senior Prom.

1) Larry Kell and Susan Flaher enjoyed one of the slow dances. 2) The Simon Geneals band played popular songs during the evening of dancing. 3) Pam Delcamp and Dewayne Yoder signed in and voted for King and Queen. 4&5) Bob Lau and Pat Myers reigned as King and Queen of the 1975 Junior-Senior Prom. 6&7) Nancy Klatt, Den Coyne, and Pam Landia and John Hoogenboom enter Goheen Theatre to see the movie M A S H. 8) Couples attending the prom signed in and voted for King and Queen. 9) Dave Alfrey was one of the many dancers who liked the fast style of music. 10) Tami Blackport and her date, with many others, danced to the Simon Geneals band. 11) Many couples relaxed at the prom, provided there were enough seats. 12) Mary Leveno crowned Pat Myers as Queen of the 1975 Prom.

all school play

Meet Me In St. Louis

Excellent directing resulted in a wonderful experience for the 30 Goshen High school students who participated in the all school play, "Meet Me In St. Louis", which was presented on two nights, October 25, 26.

Those students who were involved found a closeness among themselves which led to after play activities such as a pizza party at Dan Coyne's home plus a few trips to some local restaurants where new friendships were discovered.

The play centered around a setting in 1904 with a Smith family which lived in St. Louis. Dan Coyne played the part of the father who wanted to move the family lock, stock, and barrel to New York City.

Not all were enthused about the idea of being moved to the big city. The four daughters tried their best to create problems so they couldn't go. Many funny situations happened such as a derailed trolley, dragging of a scarecrow, and dad getting fired. The audience was kept in laughter during the entire show.

1) Dan Coyne and Nancy Klatt talked about moving to New York. 2) Sue Rudy kept a clean house. 3, 4) The daughters greeted many guests. 5) Stacy Lung asked big sister Pat Myers what to do about John Shepard. 6, 7) The youngest girls showed their oneriness. 8, 9, 10, 11) Many family problems came up and were dealt with in their own way.

How to Succeed . . .

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" was performed by members of the Junior-Senior Choir and the Orchestra. The play traced the rise of J. Pierrepont Finch from a lowly window washer to the highest peaks of big business. During his rise in the World Wide Wicket Company, Finch had to hurdle big obstacles, like Bud Frump, J. B. Biggley's nephew.

Along the way Finch also ran into another obstacle, named Rosemary. She immediately fell in love with him. Finch wasn't so willing, but he discovered that he too was in love with Rosemary. But Finch couldn't let his love affair get in the way of his rise to the top of the business world.

Mr. Swartley was the choral director and general production coordinator. Ms. White was the director of drama and in charge of sets and costumes. Mr. Kirk was in charge of the orchestra. Dan Coyne and Theresa Hendricks were the student directors and Barb Rowits was the pianist.

Added

Convocations have always been a supplement to the school day. Each convocation was voted on by students, and carried out by the Student Council. Approximately seven convocations were held during the year. Musical programs were used most, with the Crimsonaires, Jazz Ensemble, Celebrate the Sun, and the Elkhart Symphony performing for the students. A magic and ESP show along with a Pop Goes America act were also featured.

1)Mr. Swartley, Crimaonairsa sponsor, also performed during one of the convocation programs along with the group.2)A member of Elkhart Symphony played a classical guitar.3)Speaker at "Pop Goes America" convocation.4)An Elkhart Symphony member played a violin for the student body.5)Crimaonairsa, during their convocation presented nine of their special numbers to the student body.6,7,8,9)GHS students participated in this Christmas convocation.10)Andy Rieth, pictured, and Dave Zentz, not pictured, presented two songs to the convocation audience.11)Becky McCall and Jack Laetherman guessed make, color, and price of car during ESP convocation.12)Jazz Ensemble members at their convocation presented to student body.

Fifty Students Learn Skills

50 Goshen High School students were either bussed or drove their own private cars to the Elkhart Area Career Center. Students who enrolled in the career education classes were among the 971 students who came from as many as 34 different schools in and around Elkhart County.

A wide variety of training programs were available. The type of courses offered depended upon the area employment needs. Student interest was also considered. Students attended classes from 12:00-3:00 with the exception of Cosmetology which met until 4:00. Two credits each semester were earned by those in attendance.

Each year more GHS students have taken advantage of the Center's course offerings.

1) Sandra Palmer examines negative in Photography class. 2) Rita Walker gains practical experience in her Cosmetology class. 3) Paul Friesen prepares "torch" for his work in Welding. 4) Jack Smith operates Camera No. 1 for WHIT.T.V. 5) Don Sheeter and Doug Chriapyn work on a project in Electronics class. 6) Career Center students leave the school during fourth period. 7) Key Punch operator Diane Jarvis is busy making computer cards. 8) Keeping his nose to the grindstone is Ken Metzler who is enrolled in Machine Trades class. 9) Laura Kinney not only works in her Cosmetology class, but does some receptionist work also. 10) Shawn Waffle talks to a fellow student during his Machine Trades class. 11) Working at the RCA Recording Studio is disc jockey Mike Leatherman.

Spirit Meant Involvement

It was hilarious! It was exciting! It was super. Most of all, it was being involved. In these times of apathy among students, Spirit Week brought a refreshing and much-needed change in the lives of those who inhabited GHS. Inhibitions were cast aside as we searched our imaginations and our closets for the perfect hat, the most appropriate kiddie costume, or the wildest pair of socks. The seniors showed their spirit by winning the hall decorating contest, while the sophomore class won the honor of hurling the dummy into the flames at the snake dance and bonfire Tuesday night. Much work and thought was put into organizing a pep session Friday, and it resulted in a huge success. The pep band led students through the halls to the gym where enthusiasm sparked one of the school's finest pep sessions in a long time. Spirit Week was a stepping stone in promoting spirit as well as providing an inspiring prelude to the Homecoming game Friday night.

Advanced Biology Trip to Florida

Over the Christmas vacation of the 1974-75 school year, students of Mr. Weaver's advanced biology class took a chartered bus to Laton City, Long Key in Florida. The purpose of the trip was to study the marine plants and animals of Florida's waters by boat, wading, and snorkeling. Specimens were captured, preserved, and classified by the students and adults.

Students making the trip were: Phil Beachy, Mike Bender, Mike Blevins, Jane Browning, Deb Cantu, Sean Coggan, Randy Cripe, Brooke Doriot, Karen Eyer, Charlotte Gingerich, Cindy Hemley, Lisa Haines, Kris Raber, Lynn Kennedy, Pam Landis, Dave Lantz, Jeanne Lehman, Benny Miller, Luann Oexmann, Doug Oplinger, Susan Rudy, and Greg St. Germain. Sponsors for the trip were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weaver, Mrs. Anita St. Germain, Charlene Rule, Gary Weaver, and Mr. Joe Beeson. Mr. Beeson's son Steve also went along.

1)Mike Bender in typical Florida garb. 2)Snorkeling Floridian waters. 3)Doug Optinger with a small green moray. 4)Greg St. Germain classified his finds. 5)Jeanne, Brooks, and Luann got their feet wet. 6)The man with the tan, Carl Weaver. 7)Jaanna Lehman with the occupant of a conch shell. 8)Floridian bay. 9)Heron.

Interns Assisted GHS Teachers

Student "interns" became a new term in the classroom and in the halls during the school year. The label replaced the traditional title of "student teacher".

Interning at GHS this year were Mr. Doug Venderly who was under Mr. Wayne Lambright's supervision; Steve Glick under Mr. Carl Weaver in Biology, and Milo Kauffman Jr. under Mr. Bryan Rathke in Physical Education.

The Internship program is supervised under the direction of John Smith of Go shen College.

This year GHS students were enriched by the presence of three student interns fulfilling their trimester of college studies. Pictured above: 1) Doug Venderly takes a break after assisting Mr. Lambright in the mathematics Dept. 2) Milo Kauffman Jr. assisted Mr. Rathke in taking attendance. 3) Steve Glick examined the contents of a biology bottle. 4) Milo also refereed basketball games during the Phys. Ed. classes. 5) Mr. Glick in a thoughtful mood. 6) Mike Blevins talks over his score with Mr. Kauffman. 7) One of Steve Glick's duties was keeping the chemicals organized. 8) An attentive math class listens to Mr. Venderly's presentation.

The study of art was the common interest of the three foreign exchange students who attended GHS during the school year. Pictured below 1) Up to his wrists in mud, Ricardo formed clay to begin his art sculpture. 2) Learning the basic skills in Personnel Typing class was Raj. 3) Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathews, GHS teachers, sponsored Raj. 4&5) Crimson photographers caught Claudia's "penative" and "happy" moods in one of her classes. 6) Ricardo posed for "The Tomahawk" staff photographers during an interview with him.

GHS Hosts Three Students

Brazil, Mexico, and India. These were the three countries from which Goshen High School foreign exchange students left to take up studies in the United States.

Students in the Goshen Program included Ricardo Renault from Brazil; Raj Ixora V. Phillips from India; and Claudia Rodriquez from Mexico. Ricardo stayed with GHS students Todd and Tami Bryant and Raj stayed with GHS teachers Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathews. Claudia stayed with area residents unknown to the Crimson staff.

The expressions, attitudes, reactions, and emotions of the students created the life at GHS. To some students school was as boring as usual until WE got involved. Card playing, eating, sleeping, and generally "fooling around" were some of the favorite pastimes of students to get away from the "same ole grind." One noon hour was set aside one day after it snowed to have a snowman building contest. From the initials "GHS" to dragons and little round objects flying through the air landing with a plop, Dr. Cartwright's idea was a success.

Expressions

Being one of a few high schools in the area with an open noon-hour, GHS students enjoyed their 65 full minutes to eat, cruise the halls, or play cards, or just relax.

Student Activities Plentiful at GHS

Mini-course day, making and selling ball shirts, selling carnations, fire drills, decorating halls and having a snowman-making contest were some of the many activities at Goshen High School that kept students and teachers busy during the 1974-1975 school year. Dr. Philip Cartwright, principal, and all 52 teachers at GHS helped to make it a successful year by helping the students with the activities.

Students had no problem finding something to do. It seemed that not a day went by without some activity available to any student who so desired to participate.

The year was accepted by a continuing movement to change what once had been accepted by teachers, administration, and students alike. Changes came in student council, the hiring of a student activities director, improvement of the attendance policy, formation of a "total" boys' and girls' cheerblock, interns, improvement of equipment in certain departments, an effort to build a Media Center, and to prepare the building for a four-year high school with the freshman to attend in the fall of 1976. There seemed to be a sincere effort to make Goshen High School a better place to attend.

1) Girls cheerblock practice yelling for the basketball season. 2) Kria Raber and Mike Bender experimented with a rat. 3) Carol Clouse tried to persuade Fred Clemens to buy a Sunahine carnation. 4) Cindy Garber and Lisa Jones made bull shirts. 5) Mr. Weaver explained an experiment to Mark Huser, Bruce Miller, and Todd Hooker. 6) Mike Culp and Jeff Hosaler await to get their lockers inspected. 7) Kim Pfahler, Anita Holden, and Lisa Zellera made signs to decorate their sophomore hall. 8) Macheila Ott and Don Bodwell made a snowman in art class. 9) Jayme James and Marty Zepeda made tacos on Mini-Course Day. 10) Students fled out for a fire drill. 11) Betty Miller, instructor for Pizza Making, gave the students a taste of the pizza she made.

Entire Student Body Elected Representatives

A new system of Student Council started the 74-75 year at G.H.S., under the sponsorship of Mr. Carl Weaver. Seven students were elected to represent their respective grades by a student body vote rather than through their homeroom.

Roger Burger presided as president, Mike Bender as Vice President and Treasurer, and Pat Myers as Secretary.

Among the achievements for the year were Heifer Project, Walk for Hunger, and Mini-Course Project '75, (chaired by Doug Huber).

Members visited Animal Clinic

Pursuing health careers, the students who made up Medicorps worked in the area nursing homes and hospitals. Club members also visited the animal clinic where they were shown how animals were treated. In addition, Singing Valentines were sold to raise money for the Indiana Heart Fund.

Various speakers illuminated their meetings on the third Monday of every month. At an Awards Day in May members received prizes for points earned during the year.

art club Paints and Travels

Goshen High School Art Club, 25 strong, added their talent to the year's activities. They painted downtown windows to brighten the Halloween spirit and sponsored the Goshen Relays dance at the fairgrounds. Dance profits were used to finance a trip to Chicago where the club members visited the Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium, and Wrigley Field.

Officers were Cindy Garber President; Nick Smedzick Treasure; and Laura Freqson Secretary. Ms. Melinda Day served as sponsor.

1) Donna Kummeth and Amy Korenstra added some finishing touches to a downtown store window. 2) Ms. Day looked a bit frustrated while painting a window for Halloween. 3) Cindy Garber, president, gave much of her time and talents to the Art Club.

flag corps, majorettes

Girls Added Extra Excitement

The flag corps majorettes added excitement and enthusiasm to the athletic contests at G. H. S. Both organizations gave performances at football games to the delight of the fans. They competed with the marching band at Louis Cass, with Rita Ortiz and Deanna Brumbaugh getting first, and Tina Morse getting second.

The head majorette was Deanna Brumbaugh and Kay Slabach was the head flag corps girl.

Wrestling Enthusiasts

Announcing, decorating the gym, running the video-tape, working at the wrestling tourney, keeping statistics were the activities which keep the all-girl grapplerettes busy throughout the wrestling season. The 16-member squad worked behind the scenes for Coach John Dechant and his wrestlers. Denise Detwiler served as captain of the girls and Lisa Jones was the co-captain. This was the second year for the organization. Mrs. Patti Dechant served as the sponsor.

batgirls & trackmaids

Girls Lended Helping Hand

Batgirls and trackmaids made their presence known in both the baseball and track programs.

Four girls, Susie Keil, Pat Myers, Pam Delcamp, and Anita Holden, served as batgirls for Coach Devon Hoffman. The girls' main duties were to help with equipment and assist in many other ways during the course of a contest.

The trackmaids, approximately 15, served in the same way as the batgirls except the trackmaids kept records, held the finish tape, as well as helped with the equipment.

The two organizations were on a volunteer basis and had no group sponsor.

1) Benita Strycker and Pam Landis helped at the Girls' Track Sectional held at Goshen. 2) Dewayne Yoder received a bat from batgirl Anita Holden. 3) Marsha Stacker checks the bar as a high jumper crosses it. 4) Pam Delcamp looks for a foul ball. 5) Pat Myers smiles as she retrieves a bat from the playing field.

honor society

Honor Students Recognized

National Honor Society is known as one of the more elite clubs at GHS. Club membership is by invitation only and that made possible for the top ten percent of the senior class and the top five percent of the junior class. But grade point average was oncoy a prerequisite for the society. The other qualities were leadership and service. Each member was graded by the faculty.

Coke parties rewarded NHS members following each honor roll announcement each six weeks grading period.

Other meetings were held to inform the students about college opportunities and scholarships.

1)Initiation was the highlight of the year as the National Honor Society brought into the organization the top 15 percent of the juniors and 10 percent of the seniors.2)Coke parties during the noon hours were held for honor students.3)Carnations were presented to girls along with membership cards to both.

Business Procedures Learned

1) Doug Wilder finishes sorting his company's business report. 2) John Potter and Mark Huser with an unidentified student check their management reports. 3) Tom Kercher works on his company's business reports. 4) Picture frames were made by one JA company. 5) Dee Hogan and friend clean their product. 6) JA members found time to have fun as well as to work at the JA Center on Third Street in Goshen.

JA helped develop a knowledge of corporate procedures and business practices. These practices will be helpful to the students in the years to come. Approximately a dozen GHS students participated weekly in the program at the JA Center which is located on south Third Street in Goshen.

16 Girls Participated

Office Education Association provided an opportunity for GHS students to learn on-the-job experiences during the student's senior year. Sixteen girls participated in the year long program.

Activities for the year included a Halloween party at Mrs. Weddell's home, collecting food for the Salvation Army at Christmas, selling candles in October and candy in February, a spring banquet, and a final end-of-the-year party at Dandino's.

On February 15, the OEA girls competed in a regional contest in Warsaw. Receiving a first were Judi Lechlitrer in Proofreading and Spelling, Sue Stahl in Shorthand, and Donna Weaver in General Clerical. Teri Albert received a second in Typing. Diane Rosser received a third in Filing. And getting fourth were Connie Miller in Filing and Sharon Welsh in Typing.

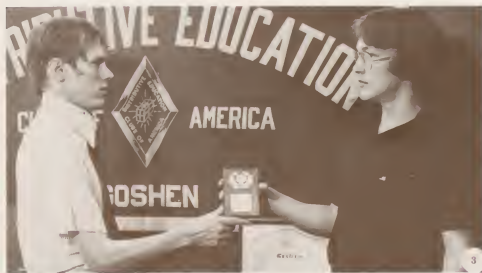

Officers were Connie Miller, president; Jackie Stack, vice president; Judi Lechlitrer, secretary; and Kay Keim, treasurer.

1)These girls were presented awards at a regional contest held in Warsaw. 2)Becky McCall kept busy working in the Guidance Department. 3)Teri Albert did some receptionist work at Starcraft. 4)Jackie Stack did a lot of typing at the Administration Building. 5)Doing filing at First National Bank was Donna Weaver. 6)OEA Members-First row, left to

Students Placed in Local Business

Deca is a two year vocational program. During the first year students were introduced to the field of marketing. The second year an advanced course was offered as well as on-the-job training. Students were placed in positions in local business firms.

Activities the past year included monthly meetings, competing in the Indiana Regional DECA contest, participation in the State Leadership Development contest, and an end of the year banquet.

Officers were Tim Hoogenboom, President; Jon Jesse, Vice-President; Art Keil, secretary; and Deb Struble, treasurer.

national forensic league

Theresa Hendricks Accumulated Top Point

Theresa Hendricks was the "top" National Forensic League participant as she earned 86 points to out distance David Carr who placed second with 82 points followed by Debbie Cripe who placed third with 61.

NFL members participated in approximately ten speech meets as well as the Sectional and Regional. The students chose to participate in extemp, oratorical declamation, poetry, original oration, radio, dramatics, and humorous categories. Two Goshen students qualified for Sectionals in oratorical declamation. They were Sue Rudy who placed sixth and David Carr who placed eight.

President of NFL was senior Theresa Hendricks.

1) Ms. White awarded Dave Carr with second place ribbon. 2) Dave Carr and Sue Rudy prepared their speeches for the Sectionals. 3) Members and friends showed enthusiasm when fellow members received their awards. 4) Those who received awards and ribbons were, center, David Carr. Middle row, Theresa Hendricks, and Sue Rudy. thespians

"If All The World Were A Stage "

The thespian members made good use of Shakespeares' quotes this year. Two major productions, "Meet Me In St. Louis," and "How to Succeed . . .", kept the gang busy.

Being a member was not just acting in the play productions but there were a lot of behind the scene action going on. Thespians learned to do stage make-up, lighting, stage construction, props, and stage directing.

Two initiations were given by thespian sponsor, Ms. White. Candle light and parents in attendance were the setting for the fall Initiation. The spring Initiation was Informal followed with a luncheon in room 208.

At the end of the year thespians showed their talents by acting out one acts. On May 20, 21 one acts were presented free of charge to any one who wanted to drop in during noon hour.

1) Theresa Hendricks and Pat Myers started the season out by playing lead rolls in the fall production. 2) Stage construction was always a learning experience. 3) John Long sang "a Secretary" in the spring musical. 4) Doug Wilder added his name to the thespian membership roll. 5) The "comedy, tragedy" mask was the thespian emblem. 6) Theresa Hendricks and Sue Rudy and their lead season with OHS thespians with a skill during the Senior Follies. 7) Dave Carr, a rookie, starred as "Grandpa" in "St. Louis." 8) Cindy Garber finished out the year as "Heddy" in "How to Succeed. . ." 9) Pam Landis and Dan Coyne worked hard to have the set ready for the fall play. 10) Dan Coyne earned thespian points by playing the leading male role in "St. Louis." 11) Spring initiates kneeling, were, G. Celebrated Mardi Gras

A supper celebrating Mardi Gras was one of the main events of 1974-1975 French Club. The supper was held at Super Steer with the movie "Gigi" shown afterwards. Members of the club sold candy during the year to pay for this event.

This year's officers were co-presidents Cindy Yeater and Nancy Morris, secretary Bobbi Miller and treasurer Jackie Clingerman.

This was Mr. Fencil's 15th year as French Club sponsor.

Chess Team Finished Eighth in State

The GHS Chess Club enjoyed a successful year in both tournament and intra club play. The club members participated in both Valparaiso and Goshen tournaments, finishing in third place in the former and second place in the latter.

Two other highlights of the year were Regional and State Finals. The team placed third in Regionals, thereby qualifying for a slot in the State Tournament. Five members of the chess club participated in the State Finals in Indianapolis, and finished eighth in the state, the highest ever in Goshen High chess club's history.

Many tournaments were also held within the club, including a club championship that was won by Phil Beachy.

Officers for this year's club were Phil Beachy, President; Eric Neumann, Secretary-Treasurer; and Dave Lantz, Tournament Director. Other members of the club were Mike Bender, Dave Bontrager, John Gingerich, John Hulewicz, Carol Marttila, Rob McCahill, Sue Rudy, Mark Sherer, and Bob Smucker.

Concentration was probably one of the most important factors in the success of the individual members of the chess club, and also of the team as a whole. These pictures show the dedication and concentration needed to play the challenging and mind-stimulating game of chess. 1) Mark Sherer 2) John Gingerich 3) Mike Bender 4) Rob McCahill 5) Carol Marttila 6) Mr. Blosser, sponsor 7) Phil Beachy.

Science Club Returned to GHS

After a year's absence, the Science Club returned to Goshen High this year. Meeting once a month after school, the club delved into the informal study of x-rays, light, and sound waves, as well as viewing the biology trip film and a computer demonstration. The purpose of the club was to provide an opportunity for students interested in science to broaden their study and understanding of the subject.

Officers for this year's organization were Lee Miller, President; and Tom Tokar, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Elmer Bowers served as the sponsor.

1)Brad Schrock prepared to set up an experiment.2)Lee Miller tested some science equipment.3)Mr. Bowers explained an experiment to a puzzled John Gingerich.4)Sponsor Mr. Bowers appeared to be having some trouble with a demonstration.5)Brad Schrock, Doug Snyder, and Phil Beechy became involved in a light experiment.

Speak Your Truth Quietly and Clearly...

One small step does not accurately describe the progress THE TOMAHAWK made during the past year.

Expansion was the key word due to the purchase of graphic arts equipment for the class. A light table, waxer, and tape perforator were the added conveniences which allowed the newspaper to be printed at the Elkhart Area Career Center. With the help of the perforator, the staff was able to save 60 percent of the original cost of publishing the school paper.

All GHS students received the newspaper free throughout the year. It was published approximately every other week, with a total of 18 issues distributed.

This was only the second year the newspaper staff operated as a class, but the interest grew until the class doubled from the year before.

One accomplishment THE TOMAHAWK was successful with was the reader interest that surpassed the years before. For example, The Forum became a popular way of venting anger and or approval.

Doug Huber served as editor-in-chief, however, many of the staff members took turns accepting the editor-in-chief's responsibilities as well as accepting page editor assignments.

Acts Were Varied

The senior class of "75" put on an exciting program as many hidden talents were revealed by numerous students as they gave their presentations to the Senior Follies' audience. The talent categories varied in many different ways. Scenes performed included the scuba guitar players, tricycle riding, singing the un-cola song, a TV game show, and a beauty contest. Tom Tokar was the MC of the Follies.

1) Jane Zollinger, Monica Copenhaver, and Kay Siabach sang and played Jeramila was a Bull Frog. 2) Tom Tokar MCed the Senior Follies. 3) Pam Delcamp and Kay Siabach played the accordion. 4) Rick and Jackie, Pam and Dewayne, and Pam and Jim in a TV presentation. 5) Pam and Kay sang the seven up song. 6) Jim Jones and Rick Copenhaver during their skit. 7) Rick got caught two-timing with Sus Rudy and Theresa Hendricks. 8) Susan Fisher, Desna Brumbaugh, Cindy Yeater, Kelly Whitehead, and Cindy Gerber said, "Peace to you all." 9) Jackie Stack had a fit on stage with her dollie. 10) Carol Ralner and Terri Albert peddled their way to happiness. 11) Becky McCall tried to calm down the participants.

Soloists Highlight Concerts

Despite a balance problem consisting of an overabundance of cellos, the 46-member orchestra this year went to organization contest and received a superior rating. Soloists and ensembles did equally well, with all but one receiving superior ratings. The annual music festival featured a session with a string quartet from Ball State University, with a concert by the orchestra in the evening. A visiting orchestra from the Chicago area of Illinois performed for several area high schools, including GHS. Junior Evy Dueck, violinist, performed a Bruch concerto with the group to highlight the winter concert, and Carol Smucker, a senior cellist, played a concerto by Lalo at the senior concert. Carol also received the NSOA award for the outstanding senior in the orchestra.

Musical Adds Diversity to Repertoire

The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Brian Kirk, is an extra-curricular group consisting of the top players in the orchestra. They rehearsed approximately 1½-2 hours per week. This year a number of top-notch band members were added to the group to provide orchestration for the all-school musical, "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and also to perform at the senior concert. The Chamber Orchestra gave about ten performances throughout the year, ranging from providing music for a wedding to dinner music for the Psi Iota Xi Sorority.

Phil Beechy and Carol Smucker headed the cello section. 2) Mr. Kirk directed the group. 3) Nancy Dragoo was a much-needed viola player. 4) Daryl Hartman was a first violinist. 5) The chamber orchestra played the Overture to the musical during dress rehearsal

Concerts, Contests, and Tapings

Performing numerous concerts, taping the Christmas television show and attending contests, the GHS choirs sang a variety of challenging music. The Senior Choir sang the "Gloria" from Schubert's 5th Messiah at the Goshen College Church and at their Spring Concert. Officers for the Sophomore Choir were Anita Holden, President; Renee Troyer, Secretary-Treasurer; Margie Mowry, Ron Troyer Attendance; Sue Remer, Kris Kauffman Librarians; June Berkey, Rick Troyer, Vestments; and Anne Hostetler, Publicity. Soloists Improvise

Directed by David Plank, the Jazz Ensemble made approximately twenty public appearances throughout the school year. Improvisation by soloists became a part of every concert. The convocation presented to GHS was well received, although several editorials appeared in the Tomahawk concerning music selection. The end-of-the-year party, planned to take place at Ox-Bow Park, was rained out.

Bob, Gail Received "G" Awards

Highlighting the evening of honoring GHS athletes at the first all-sports banquet this year was the presentation of the "G" Man and the "G" Girl awards.

Coaches of individual sports nominated a senior performer to represent each sport in the balloting. The final vote was made by the senior guy athletes choosing the "G" Man award. Only senior athletes were eligible to win the distinguished award. This marked the first time in GHS history that the athletic department selected a "G" Girl award.

The speaker for the evening was Doug Weaver who was a GHS athlete who went on to fame in the college coaching ranks and who is now the athletic director at Southern Illinois. The catered dinner was served to 500 people in the GHS gym.

Cheerleaders, Pep Band Pyramid Enthusiasm

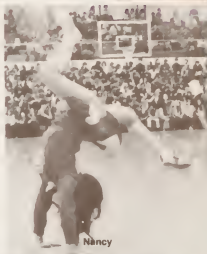

Spirited cheers and music inspired many GHS athletes on to the hope of victory. The school song to fire up the teams, the personal signs on the jocks' lockers, and the crepe paper in the halls all helped boost spirits high. Long hours went into practice and lonely moments were spent decorating the halls. Pep sessions, Spirit Week, a bonfire, booster club, and cheerblock included major cheerleader sponsored activities which revived enthusiasm. Credit must go to the ten-member cheerleading squad and Pep Band for the success and efforts produced by this year's sportsters.

Mr. Sharpe sponsored the band while the musicians supplied the pep. Most of the pep was generated during the pre-game and half-time activities at home "B"-ball games.

Ms. Barbra Zook, who completed eighteen years as cheerleader sponsor, announced her retirement plans. Her spirit and enthusiasm will be missed greatly throughout the years to come.

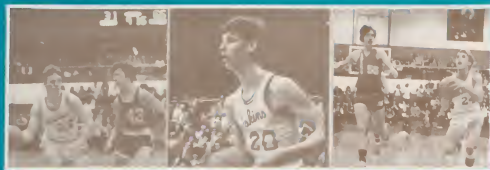

This year's varsity squad included seniors Connie Miller, Tanya Shand, Sharon Welsh, Cindy Yeater(captain) and juniors Marcia Bloss and Linda Cripe. The sophomore JV's were Peggy Burt, Anita Holden, Nancy Moyer, and Lisa Zellers(captain).

1) Amy Korenstra toots her flute. 2) Tami Blackport plays her sax for victory. 3) Brian Hoffman huffs his horn. 4) Tom Bowser always seems to stick out of the crowd. 5) Pep Band in action. 6) Mass hysteria follows Adams upset.

Goshen, despite a 15-8 record, gained state-wide recognition by defeating No. 1 ranked South Bend Adams during the regular season and Penn in the Elkhart Sectional. However, the Skins lost to Northridge in the Sectional finals, 62-56.

Goshen won the first game of the Holiday Tourney which was held at Goshen by the score of 51-41 over Westview. The Skins lost to Merrillville in the final game 74-54. A new era seemed to be in the making for Goshen High School Basketball as Coach Tuggle has brought the Redskins a long way since accepting the head coaching job in 1972.

Jeff Hossler and Bob Lau led the team with a total of 484 and 326 points, respectively. They also led in rebounds with 223 and 188.

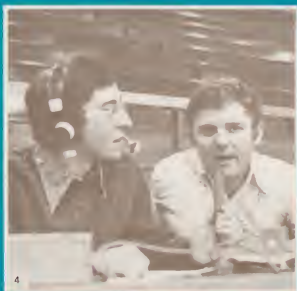

The First United Methodist Church was the site of the annual basketball banquet. Receiving awards were Jeff Hossler, M.V.P., total points, and total rebounds; Bob Lau, Bunk Williams Medal; and Ed Stacker, the Paul Underwood Award. Kevin Cotherman, received Defensive Points Award.

B-team Featured Winning Season

The basketball fortunes for Coach Pete Weddell's B-team proved exciting as the young Skins completed their third winning season in a row, winning 12 and losing 8.

Kirby Thompson, the team's playmaker, was also the leading scorer with 210 points.

Richard Klatt and Ken Bickel led in rebounds with 123, 151, respectively.

Coach Weddell used his bench freely using many of his players throughout the season.

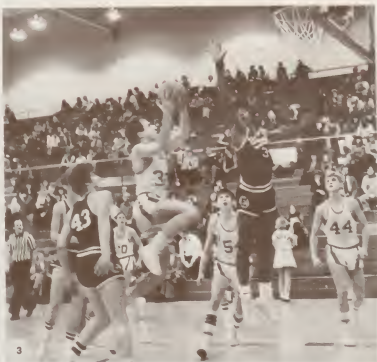

A B-team tournament was held at Goshen. The Skins played Elkhart Central and lost 38-31. In the consolation game, Goshen lost 44-42 against Elkhart Memorial.

Varsity Swimmers were 9-4

The Goshen High School swimming team did well considering it had only one senior and such a small number of boys, 15, on the team. The swimmers earned nine victories while dropping four.

Two school records were established with one set by Ron Troup in the 200 freestyle in 1:55.95 while the other one was established by Troup also in the 500 freestyle in a time of 5:11.900. Troup and Brian Stevens were the only two swimmers to qualify for the State meet; however, neither boy placed. In the Sectional the 200 freestyle relay team placed third, Troup placed second in the 200, Greg Miller placed fourth in the 200 individual medley, Jaye Sleppy 11th in diving, Sleppy and Dave Oplinger 11th and seventh, respectively, in the 100 butterfly, Brett Neff eighth in the 100 freestyle, Troup and Chris Lechner second and eighth, respectively, in the 500 freestyle, Kevin Kirkpatrick and Brad Harris eighth and seventh, respectively, in the 100 backstroke, B. Stevens second in the 100 breaststroke, and Oplinger, Miller, Troup, and Neff fifth in the 400 freestyle relay.

Most Valuable went to Ron Troup, Most Improved to Brad Harris, Best Mental Attitude to Greg Miller, and the Paul Underwood Award went to Kevin Kirkpatrick. Captains were Neff and Troup while Dale Sleppy was the manager.

1 & 2) Ron Troup and Brian Stevens were Goshen's only two to go to the State. 3) Goshen swimmer doing butterfly. 4) An unidentified GHS diver. 5) Kevin Kirkpatrick working hard at the butterfly. 6) Swimmers taking their marks. 7) Ron Troup just a little discouraged with things. 8) Unidentified swimmer gasping for air. 9) Opponent getting good push off on backstroke. 10) Ron giving all he has in his event.

Golfers Were Rebuilding

The 1975 golf team was in the rebuilding stage which was proven by their 7-17 record.

The team consisted of one senior and four juniors who performed well for Coach Lambright.

Leading the team this year was Kelly Holway who was named M.V.P.

In sectional play the linksmen were sixth out of 27 schools even though it was the youngest team Lambright had ever entered in the Sectional.

Coach Lambright is looking forward to next season with four of his varsity players returning.

Harriers Post 17-2 Season

This was the season the Harriers "came alive" as they ended their season with a fabulous 17-2 mark.

There were a couple of close meets, but the Harriers only saw defeat against West Noble, 24-31, and NorthWood, 27-29.

After the West Noble defeat, the team got fired up and went on to win 11 straight meets.

In invitational and sectional competition the Harriers placed sixth in the DeKalb Invitational, third in the West Noble Invitational, and fourth in the Elkhart Sectional which qualified Goshen for the Regional. The team did not place at the Regional, however.

There were good times and bad times during the season. The good times included throwing the coach in the shower, going to the Dairy Queen to have a giant shake after the DeKalb Invitational, beating Penn on their own course, beating F.W. Elmhurst, Mishawaka, and Mishawaka Marian.

The top six runners for Coach Carl Weaver include Brian Warstler, Maurie Kline, Keith Weirich, Mike Leatherman, Glenn Joldersma, and Mike Kitson. Others were John Ride, Jeff Troyer, Tom Lower, Carlyle Schibauch, Andy Coggan, and Mark Stroman.

Fearsome Foursome

Goshen Redskin's feared quartet of seniors sparked the 1975 baseball season. The leading batter was center fielder Larry Keil with a school record for the highest batting average (.402) and most hits (35) in one season. First baseman Bob Lau set a single-season mark with 22 runs batted in and tied another with seven doubles. Lau had a .382 batting average. Third baseman Randy Brandt batted .343 and right fielder Jeff Hossler ended the season with .327.

Other graduating players were second baseman Dewayne Yoder and pitchers Jim Lindhom and Roy Stahl.

Goshen's team ended with a 18-12 record which is the second winningest team in G.H.S. baseball's history. Goshen lost 1-2 to Wawasee in the Sectional. The varsity team was coached by Devon Hoffman.

The junior varsity team ended the season with a 10-6 record and was coached by Lee Martin.

Goshen High School's varsity track team completed a fine year as they finished with a 11-7 record. The 11-7 record was one of the best the school had seen from its trackmen in recent years.

To cap the season off, the Redskins placed seventh in the Sectional which was held at Goshen's Foreman Field for the first time. Goshen qualified two participants for the Regional, Brian Warstler and Chuck Lantz. Warstler ran a spectacular mile and won the race in his season's best time of 4:21.1 while Lantz placed fourth in the high jump with a jump of 6'2". Other boys who placed in the Sectional were Maurie Kline, fifth in the mile; Mike Kitson, sixth in the 880; and Mike Leatherman, fifth in the two-mile run. As a team, Goshen placed fifth in the mile relay and sixth in the 880-yard relay.

The Redskins also captured the "B" Division of the Goshen Relays for the first time in the history of the Relays, defeating Northwood by one point, 91-90.

The Redskins were coached by Carl Weaver.

Goshen Declared "B" Winner

A technical point mix-up provided an exciting finish for the 33rd Goshen Relays. After it was resolved, Goshen was declared Class "B" winner for the first in the history of the Relays.

The mix-up came in the pole vault when a NorthWood vaulter was given a few less points than he deserved. The mistake was not reported until later that evening, and due to a recent I.H.S.A.A. ruling, the result could not be changed therefore Goshen remained the winner.

But after everything was settled, the Goshen squad voted not to accept the trophy. Unfortunately, NorthWood didn't want it either. The 1975 trophy will be used for some other sporting event, according to Athletic Director Herb Resler.

Gary Roosevelt easily won the "A" Division for the 14th time.

Mr. Robert Peffley, a 1930 graduate and three-sport athlete at Goshen High School, was honorary referee.

Redskins Faced Rebuilding

The varsity football team, coached by first-year mentor Ken Mirer, faced a rebuilding year after coming off a 3-7 season the year before. Goshen was in most of the games all the way except toward the end of the games when the opponents wore the 'Skins down to go on to victory. The 'Skins only win came against Culver, 18-6.

Those honored at the banquet were: Kevin Clason, Most Valuable Lineman; Karl Herr, Most Valuable Back; Neal Yoder, Most Improved; Jim Jones, Paul Underwood J.C. Mental Attitude Award; Kevin Clason and Karl Herr, Helmet award; Bob Lau, U.P.I. All State team and Bloomington Herald Times All State Team, (Honorable Mention); and Matt Hay and Jim Jones; Honorary Captains

Volleyball Team Ends 9-2

With a schedule of eleven games, the Goshen spikers chalked up a record of nine wins and two losses, being defeated only by the tough Central and Concord teams.

Gail Romdall led the team with 56 points and 21 aces. Patricia Albrecht had a high of 19 spikes, 12 aces. Pat also was named Most Valuable Player, while Most Improved was earned by Debbie Zentz.

Leading the team for the second year of competitive IHSAA action were five seniors; Jeanne Lehman, Kris Raber, Gail Romdall, Deb Struble, and Kay Slabaugh. Mrs. Rose Kettlebar coached the girls through their most winning season.

1)Jeanne Lehman works for a point. 2)Kris Raber, Gail Romdall, Sarah Shenk and Trish Albrecht relax on the bench. 3)Gail Romdall, Trish Albrecht and Angie Neal await the serve. 4)Nancy Klatt and Deb Cripe use teamwork.

Basketball Team Best Ever

In the short two-year existence of IHSSA girls' basketball at GHS, the girls achieved their best record, winning seven while losing seven.

Losing only one game by one point to the tough Bremen team, the Redskin 'B'-team exhibited the power and the will to win, winning six and losing one. It was the best record ever by the 'B'-teammers.

Tricia Albrecht was high scorer of the year with one-hundred five points, and Tina Yoder had the highest field goal percentage of forty eight percent. Nancy Moyer earned the best free-throw percentage hitting seventy-two percent.

Ms. Doris Keyser coached both the varsity and 'B' squads. It was her first year at the helm.

Girl Swimmers Stroke to Outstanding Season

The Redskin girls' swim team, coached by Mrs. McCann, rounded out their 1975 season with an outstanding 9-1 record along with a 4th place at sectionals.

Consisting mostly of underclassmen and juniors, the team did extraordinarily well for having so many inexperienced swimmers. The only seniors on the team were Julie McCally, Mary Myers, Pat Myers, and Barb Springer.

New records set in the 1975 season were: Shelly Harris, Barb Springer, Jill Fult, and Kim Gardner in the Medley Relay, in a time of 2:12.3; Jill Fult in the 200 free in a time of 2:14.6; 200 Individual Medley, set by Barb Springer in 2:43.8; Jill Fult in the 50 free in 28.3; 50 breast by Barb Springer in 36.8; and 50 fly by Kim Gardner in 31.8. The 100 free was also set by Kim Gardner in 1:05.0, and she also holds the 100 fly record in 1:16.5. Rose Kidd holds the 100 breast with a time of 1:20.1; and Jody Snobarger in backstroke in 1:15.0. Jill Fult also holds the 400 free in a time of 4:49.5. The free relay was also broken and made state cuts in a time of 4:20.0. The relay consisted of Jill Fult, Barb Springer, Nancy Morris, and Kim Gardner. Penny Hoffman took the record in diving with a 204.1.

Those competing in the state meet were the 400 free relay team and both divers—Pat Myers and Penny Hoffman.

Mrs. McCann, in her fifth year as coach, had her team practicing in November, 2 months before the season had even started.

Among the awards given this year were Barb Springer, Most Valuable Swimmer and Heather Hardie, Most Improved.

Girls Had Fine 9-2 Season

Goshen High School had 36 hard working girls on the track team that was coached by Dori Keyser with 18 of them Sectional qualifiers. Eight of the 18 went on to qualify for Regional and six at the State. They took two events to State, the 440-yd. relay team consisting of Brooke Doriot, Nancy Moyer, Linda Cripe, Karen Riley, and Sherry Snodgrass which placed 6th and shot putter Jill Fult who placed 10th.

The girls also broke ten records this year. They were the 80-yd. hurdles at 11.7 by Nancy Moyer, 100-yd. dash at 11.5 by Brooke Doriot, 220-yd. dash at 26.3 by Brooke Doriot, 440-yd. dash at :67 by Jane Martilla, the 440-yd. relay team that went to state at :51.5, 880-yd. medley at 2:04 by Gail Romdall, Chris Cottingham, Nancy Moyer, and Vicki Mullet, shot put at 37' 2" by Jill Fult, high jump at 5' 1" by Penny Hoffman, softball throw at 182' 4" by Angie Neal, and running long jump at 15' 9" by Karen Riley

252 GHS Students Received Diplomas

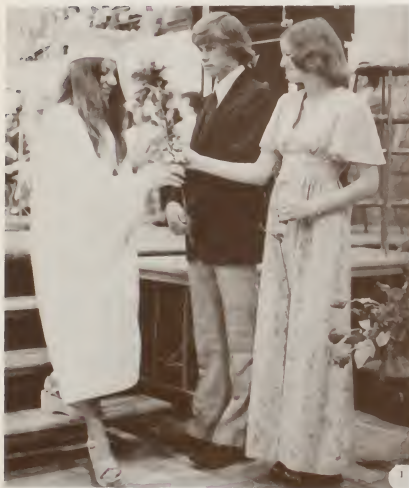

This year's class of 1975 broke the tradition by abandoning the use of a special outside speaker. The main addresses were presented by Carol Smucker, class valedictorian and Philip Beachy, salutatorian. A welcome address was given by Superintendent Gary Seymour and Reverend Donald Moody gave the sermonette.

Carol's address outlined some of the qualities of a good teacher which she values most. These included humanness in the classroom, maintaining high expectations for the students, the ability to communicate with each student on a particular level, and the ability to transfer an excitement for learning and the subject matter.

Phil concentrated on the idea that the power of an idea is unlimited. He stated that ideas have changed lives and even nations and cited the American Revolution as an example of an idea that shaped a country.

Dr. Philip Cartwright, principal, and Joseph Beeson, assistant principal, read the register while school board members presented diplomas.

Unfortunately, this year as the two previous years, graduation ceremonies were again held in the gymnasium due to inclement weather.

1)Monica Copenhaver received a rose from Karen Sherer after Jeff Jackson helped her down the steps.2)Heather Hardie helped School Board member John Ulmer with the presentation of the diplomas.3)Jose Camacho received his diploma from John Ulmer.4)The class of 1975.5)Class President Dewayne Yoder watched on as valedictorian Carol Smucker gave her speech.6)Speakers for the graduation stand at attention as the seniors march in to take their places.7)Carol Smucker and Dewayne Yoder listened to salutorian Philip Beachy as he gave his speech.8)Judy Lechlittner shows relief as Connie Miller talked to her.9)These seniors await for their turn to receive their diploma.

Two Who Were Appreciated

Miss Barbra Zook and Clarence "Dutch" Ganger both retired this past year after many years of dedicated work. Miss Zook taught at GHS for 37 years while "Dutch" was head custodian for 15 years. Miss Zook served as the English department coordinator and served as the girl's cheerblock and cheerleader sponsor for many years.

Both of these two individuals will be missed by the GHS student body which returns to school this coming Fall. The Crimson staff wanted to make sure these two individuals were remembered for contribution made at GHS.

Cartwright Completed Second Year

Dr. Philip Cartwright completed his second year as Goshen High School principal. The 35-year-old educator came to Goshen in 1971 following a one year stay at Iowa City, Iowa, where he served as a junior high school principal.

Before accepting the Iowa job, Dr. Cartwright was assistant principal at GHS and was a social studies teacher at Whitman Junior High School.

Assisting Dr. Cartwright for the second straight year was Joseph Beeson who handled the assistant principal duties which included attendance and building and grounds.

drastic changes

Facelift Up-dates Crimson

A fresh look for THE CRIMSON was the overall goal made by the yearbook staff. For the first year in GHS's history, students produced entirely the yearbook except for the printing. This included designing layouts, photography, writing copy, captions and headlines, and then typing them on the perforator to be sent to the Elkhart Area Career Center. This was quite a new experience since the publisher had always done this before.

Under the leadership of Nancy Warner who was editor-in-chief, and Barb Rowits assistant editor, each staff member was responsible for individual pages. Carol Smucker was assigned the senior section; Tami Blackport the junior section; Melanie Miller the sophomore section; and Deb Baker was in charge of the faculty section.

The advertising crew was headed by Audrey Skelton, and their efforts produced $3,000 for the yearbook.

This was the second year THE CRIMSON operated as a class, and it grew from 16 students to 25.

THE CRIMSON STAFF: Rick Copenhaver, John Alexenko, Paulette McGeechie, Richard Sterk, Gary Kimlick, Carrie Lamb, Heather Hardie, Rita Master, Sean Coogan, Nancy Warner, Audrey Skelton, John Ride, Tami Blackport, Tami

1)Mark Sherer, Sean Coggan and Eric Neumann were photographers for the CRIM-SON, Mark being head photographer. 2)Mr. Snyder put in many extra hours for publications. 3)Mr. Snyder, Editor-in-Chief Nancy Werner and Assistant Editor Barb Rowlits worked constantly trying to keep the yearbook on schedule. 4)The yearbook class sometimes went crazy trying to meet deadlines. 5)Although the students enjoyed themselves as a whole, it was discovered that there was very much work involved. 6)Audrey Skelton was the head of advertising, with Rick Copenhaver and John Alexenko assisting. 7)LuAnn Oaxmenn and Heather Hardie, working on their
9)Carrie Lamb, Vickie Miller and Gary Kimlick work on their layouts. 10)Audrey
Skelton, as many others did, sometimes became quite frustrated.

A staff of 26 members and one sponsor started this yearbook rolling at the beginning of the school year. New ideas from the staff, sponsor, assistant editor, and editor became realities as the year progressed.

The 1974-75 Goshen High School yearbook staff has put in many more hours than the stated classroom hours. Photographers deserve special recognition for what they have had to put up with from staff members and the amount of work they have put into this yearbook.

Assistant Editor Barb Rowits also was the staffer who took charge when others failed to live up to their responsibilities. Special thanks are also extended to Paulette McGeachie and Rita Master who complimented Barb's efforts.

In closing these words written by Oscar Hammerstein II should be remembered by all the people who will find, receive, read, look at, pass on, and or beg or borrow this 1975 Goshen High School yearbook.

"Why you are born and why you are living depend entirely on what you are getting out of this world and what you are giving to it. I cannot prove that this is a balance of mathematical perfection, but my own observation of life leads me to the conclusion that there is a very real relationship, both quantitatively and qualitatively, between what you contribute and what you get out this world."
